Choose your challenge!

Our current topic is 'What's it like to live on an island?' We are focusing our work on Trinidad and Tobago, and the Scottish island of Coll. Here are some activities you can do at home.

Make a poster to persuade people to visit the island of Coll or an island of your choice. Make sure you include some of the physical and human features visitors can see!

Choose an island to research with your family. You could find out about the foods, language, flag and even if they have any traditional music and artwork.

Design a front cover for a new Katie Morag story. You can choose the name of the story.
